TRASH TOWKAY - A GAME ON RECYCLING RIGHT

Players draw cards, use tokens or play their Action Cards, to find Item Cards of the same category in order to complete a set (e.g. a Trash set requires 3 Trash Cards and a token). The player who completes 3 unique sets of Item Cards first (Reusables, Recyclables, E-wastes, Bulky Items or Trash), wins the game.

How Trash Towkay Promotes Good Recycling and Disposal Practices

The Item Cards represent 5 categories of items – Reusables, Recyclables, E-wastes, Bulky Items and Trash. Apart from informing players on which items are recyclable, these cards teach players on how the different items should be processed for proper recycling (e.g. rinse your plastic bottles) or disposal (e.g. bag your trash).

Event Cards can be either positive or negative.

Positive Event Cards raise players' awareness of the various avenues they can tap on to deal with their items (e.g. town councils for removal of bulky items, charity drives for decluttering of reusable items). Meanwhile, the negative Event Cards discourage negative behaviours by highlighting the adverse effects of improper recycling or disposal (e.g. contamination of the recycling bin, potential fire hazards when too many items are hoarded).

Both Action Cards and positive Event Cards reinforce positive behaviours by rewarding the players when they carry out the stated actions (e.g. the Composting Action Card rewards the player with 2 tokens if he discards 1 Item Card of a compostable nature).
